

The Presentation of our Lord Jesus Christ in the Temple [Candlemas]

Psalm 84:1-7

How glorious is your dwelling place,
O Blessed Architect of the universe!
My soul longs, yes, aches for the a-bode of the Be-loved;
All that is within me sings for joy to the living Heart of Love!

1 - Even as the sparrow finds a home,
2 - and the swallow a nesting place, where its young are raised within your majestic cre-ation,
4 - You invite us to  dwell with-in your Heart.

1 - Blessed are they who put their strength in You,
2 - who choose to share the joy and sorrows of the world.
1 - They do not give way to fear or doubt;
2 - they are quickened by Divine Light and Power;
3 - they dwell within the peace of the Most High.
4 - They go from strength to strength and live with in-tegrity.
